PROGRAMS: ABOUT RANK ORDER LISTS

After registering for a Match and completing interviews, program directors submit to the NRMP® a list of applicants, ranked in order of preference, whom they have interviewed and wish to train. At the same time, applicants submit to the NRMP® a list of programs, ranked in order of preference, where they wish to train. It is the final preferences of applicants and program directors, as expressed on their rank order lists (ROLs), that determines the Match outcome.

Rank order lists for Matches conducted by the NRMP® are submitted electronically via the NRMP's secure, web-based Registration, Ranking, and Results (R3®) system. To create and certify a rank order list, all Match participants must be registered for an NRMP® Match and have approved access to the R3® system.
